VOL. CXXXII—No. 278. ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1916. PRICE 2 CENTS

FOR CHILDREN'S HOME

Board of Managers Request That the Needs of the Little Ones be Remembered Thanksgiving Day.

Alexandria may have many who are in need of assistance but none certainly can be more worthy than the inmates of the Children's Home concerning which the Board of Managers has requested the Gazette to give space to the following appeal:

It can be readily understood that the soaring of prices has not only affected the amount necessary for the running expenses of the Childrens' Home but has also lessened the amount of donations in a marked degree, therefore the board of managers of the home is making an earnest appeal that each individual will send an offering, no matter how small, to the Home on Thanksgiving Day or the day previous. The aggregate of small donations will be of manifold benefit to the home and not a tax on any one.

There is not a child housed in the home that has anywhere else to look for a home, and there has never been a worthy case of application refused. In addition, numbers of temporary cases of distress are cared for. If you have anything in your own life to the thankful for, will you not make a thank-offering to your own institution for needy ones?

The management of the home would like to thank everyone who has aided in the past in supporting so worthy a cause and to thank those in advance who will hearken to this appeal. Anything in the line of provisions, money or clothing will be gratefully appreciated.

Our endeavor, through this appeal, is to keep the little bodies warm, sufficiently clothed and fed during the winter season and if everyone will be thoughtful enough to contribute his or her mite this can be accomplished.

UNION PRAYER MEETINGS

To be Held by the Women of the City

The ladies in charge of the prayer meeting services to be held in the city have sent to the Gazette the following.

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock there will be a union prayer meeting for women at the First Baptist church. The service will be led by Capt. McCrea of the Salvation Army. We hope the women of the several churches will be present. It has been considered expedient to discontinue the parlor prayer meetings for the present. Each of the churches have mid-week services. The girls' prayer meeting at the Girls Club and Rest Room, 921 King street, will be continued each week. These prayer meetings are held at 8 p. m., on Thursdays except this week when the date has been changed to Tuesday at 8 o'clock. All girls and women are invited to attend. The weekly prayer service at the Home for the Aged is a union service at 3 o'clock each Friday afternoon. The weekly prayer service will also be continued at the jail and the city Home.

The parlor prayer meetings, have, so beautifully, brought about Christian unity among our Christian women and have brought us a great blessing. It is hoped that this spirit may continue in the various Christian activities. If at any time, in cases of sickness in a home, or where there is a shut-in, a special parlor prayer meeting is desired, the committee will be glad to arrange for it if the request be sent to them.

The members of the committee wish to express their sincere thanks and appreciation to the Alexandria Gazette for the frequent and willing publication of the various notices they have sent to it. The Gazette has helped very materially in the great success of these meetings.

"The country around the Somme battle front is like a blasted world. Instead of the rolling fertile plains of former months, it has been transformed into a sea of mud. Men are being drowned in this mud by the scores." This graphic epitome of the greatest battle in history was given yesterday in New York, by Will Irwin, the writer who returned from a trip to the French front on the American liner Philadelphia.

FIVE 'DRUNKS' ARRESTED

All Said They Procured Liquor in Washington and Forfeited Their Collateral.

Sergeants Wilkinson and Roberts and Officers Roland, Henderson, Smith, Campbell, and Thompson picked up five drunken men Saturday night and yesterday. When questioned they alleged they procured their liquor in Washington. A quart bottle of whisky, another containing a pint and two half pints decorated the desk of Justice Caton this morning. The session of the court lasted but two or three minutes, and there was but one ruling—"forfeited their collateral"—as the names of the parties who had been arrested were called.

The "drunks" were Henry Dixon, Alexander Christenson, E. G. Violett, J. H. Craig and Jess Warner.

Allen Contee, Walter Turner and Charles Gray all colored, had been arrested for gambling. They were not on hand and their collateral was declared forfeited.

There was but one other case, that of a cow, belonging to a dairyman living near this city. The owner failed to respond and he forfeited his deposit.

Four of the men arrested for drunkenness are Washingtonians. They said the whisky found in their possession was purchased in the capital city.

After the adjournment of the Police Court the liquor captured by the officers is poured into the sewer at the station house.

MORE MAFIA MURDERS

Twenty-Seventh in Chicago During the Present Year.

Chicago, Nov. 27—"Little Italy's" third murder within a week occurred at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. This makes the twenty-seventh Mafia murder so far this year. The police are helpless as Italians who know of the murders, by whom committed and the reasons are afraid to talk. It is impossible to secure a conviction for these crimes.

Joseph Diovardi, grocer at 858 Milton street, was shot three times and instantly killed on the sidewalk in front of a saloon at 851 Milton street. The saloon is owned by Ciro Foresti and Frank Redisi.

Redisi, Diovardi's nephew by marriage, was taken to the Chicago avenue station, where, the police say, he confessed that three days ago he bought a revolver, which was found after the murder in a hallway 50 feet from the shooting site. The revolver was a .32-caliber and contained two bullets.

Redisi said that he had fired four shots from the revolver, but did not admit that he had fired those shots at Diovardi.

Diovardi was shot three times, once in the jaw and twice in the body beneath the right lung. A fourth bullet was found among his clothes.

Diovardi is survived by his wife and by three children, a girl 5 years old and two boys one aged 3 years and the other aged 1.

An unidentified Italian was found dead in the rear of a saloon conducted by Joseph Circicola and Angelo Marino Saturday night. He had been shot in the neck, breast and heart.

Chocked to death by his tight collar, Robert Bowman 28 years old, was found in his room at the Haskell Hotel, Paterson, N. J. He was fully dressed. It is believed that when he returned to his room Friday night he was seized with a fainting illness and went to bed without removing his clothes.

ROADS AND FARM VALUES

Washington, D. C., Nov. 27—To determine as far as possible the exact dollars and cents effect on a county of the improvement of bad roads, specialists of the Office of Public Roads and Rural Engineering of the U. S. Department of Agriculture made economic surveys in 8 counties in each of the years from 1910 to 1915, inclusive.

This study of the increase in the values of farm lands in the eight counties reveals the rather interesting fact that following the improvement of the main market roads the increase in the selling price of tillable farm lands served by the roads has amounted to from one to three times the total cost of the improvements. The increase in values in those instances which were recorded ranged from 63 per cent to 80 per cent in Spotsylvania County, Va., from 68 to 194 in Dinwiddie County, Va.; 70 to 80 in Lee County, Va.; 25 to 100 in Wise County, Va.; 9 to 114 in Franklin County, N. Y.; 50 to 100 in Dallas County, Ala.; 25 to 50 in Lauderable County, Miss.; and from 50 to 100 in Manatee County, Fla. The estimates of increase were based for the most part upon the territory within a distance of one mile on each side of the roads improved.

GOOD FOOTBALL GAME

Promised for Thanksgiving Day Between Eastern College and Alexandria.

The greatest game of the season and no doubt the hardest game the Alexandria boys ever attempted will be played in this City on Thanksgiving day on the school grounds. All arrangements were completed yesterday in Manassas by Mr. Nalls coach of the High school team. During the conversation in completing the details of agreement it was at first thought that the game would have to be called off owing to the fact that the College team demanded too much money for expenses to come to Alexandria. It was finally agreed that the Alexandria High school guarantee the Eastern College $50 to have their team appear in this city. Although this is the largest amount the High school ever paid to have a team come here it is hoped that the public will support the High school in their efforts to fulfill their guarantee. Tickets are now on sale by members of the team and school.

All members of the Eastern Star are requested to send their donations for the Masonic Orphans Home to Brawner Brothers store not later than 1 o'clock Tuesday. (Signed) Minnie W. Latham. 278-1t.

SLEEPING NEAR TRACK

Young Man From Washington Reposing in Arms of Morpheus When Sergeant Roberts Awakens Him.

About ten o'clock last Saturday night, while Sergeant Roberts was patroling the neighborhood of the intersection of Gibbon and Royal streets, he discovered a young white man asleep in close proximity to the electric railway track. He approached the sleeper, and found he had been overcome by liquor and was utterly helpless. The sergeant placed the young man upon his feet and conducted him to the station house, where he subsequently gave his name as Jess Warner and said he came from Washington, where, he alleged, he purchased the liquor which had made his drunk. He is about 25 years old. After he had recovered from the effects of his debauch, he left collateral for his appearance before the Police Court this morning. When his name was called he was non est inventus, and forfeited his deposit.

The out-of-the-way place where the youngster was found was the scene recently of a holdup. The neighborhood is inhabited mostly by negroes, and it is difficult to understand why a stranger would have wandered to such a locality It is contiguous to the Wilkes street tunnel where two drunken persons have been killed by passing trains in bygone years.

SUICIDE OF DRUG CLERK

J. Granville Adams, of Falls Church Kills Himself When Woman Marries Another Man.

J. Granville Adams, twenty-four years old, of Falls Church, Fairfax county, died in his room over a drug store in that town Saturday from a self-inflicted bullet wound. Adams was believed to have shot himself early in the morning, disappointed in love, because a young woman of Falls Church was married Friday to another resident of the town and a government employe.

Adams is believed to have fired the fatal bullet about 4 o'clock Saturday morning. He was found several hours later by a clerk in C. T. Mankin and Co's drug store. He died at 1:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Adams was a clerk in Mankin's drug store for some years and was acquainted with every one in the village. He lately worked in an F street, Washington, drug store as prescription clerk, but continued to live in Falls Church. Adams' parents live at Front Royal, where they moved recently.

The body was brought to Alexandria early this morning and sent to Marshall on the 8:30 train. It was accompanied by two sisters and a brother, residents of Washington, and other relatives, and his parents met the train at Marshall.

TRAIN RUNS INTO HOTEL

Jumps Track, Plunges Into Building, But Only One Person Hurt.

Upper Sandusky, Nov. 27—By remarkable chance no one was seriously injured when the Steel City express, a fast Chicago to Pittsburgh passenger train on the Pennsylvania Railroad, plunged through a derailer at Forest, O., near here, in a blinding snow storm, and ripped its way into the Forest Hotel early Friday morning.

The train was running fast when the Big Four Railroad crossing was reached and the engineer could not see that the block signal for the crossing was set against him, so severe was the storm. The engine turned over on its side as it plowed into the hotel, which was badly damaged. The tender and mail car followed the engine. The seven coaches remained upon the track.

The only person hurt was the mail clerk, whose name has not been learned, and he was only slightly injured.

Three persons were instantly killed and three others injured, two probably fatally, late yesterday afternoon, when an interurban trolley car crashed into their automobile, near the northern limits of Detroit, Mich.

HOPE FOR ROUMANIANS

Member of French Legion Tells Washington of the Progress of the War.

London, Nov. 27—News from German sources caused a renewal of hope here today that Roumania may, after all, extricate herself from the precarious position in which her Wallachian forces have been placed by von Falkenhayn's concededly brilliant strategic campaign.

Of prime basis for this hope was the utter lack, in all the German official reports, of any claims of large captures of prisoners or war munitions.

If the Roumanian army had actually been trapped by the encircling movement around Orsova and Turnu-Severin, reaching over to Cralova, it was regarded as certain the Berlin official reports would have chronicled big captures of men and supplies.

Furthermore, it is known here that the Roumanians succeeded in removing all of their artillery from Cralova before that city fell into the hands of the enemy.

One other source of hope was the report from German correspondents at von Falkenhayn's headquarters that further progress beyond the Alt was delayed because of the condition of the roads.

Both of these bits of news led military experts here to reconstruct a story of an orderly retreat of the Roumanian forces from the angle on which two arms of the Teutonic forces are now exerting pressure.

Washington, Nov. 27.—That the past ten months have brought such marked improvement in the equipment and development of armies of the allies as to assure ultimate victory of those nations over the central powers, is the message brought to Washington by Lieut. Zinovi Pechkoff, of the French Foreign Legion.

He says a deep impression was made upon him on his return to the French front after ten month spent in recuperation from a wound that cost him his right arm. The progress made by England in raising and equipping her armies and improving her seige guns, the speaker said, was almost unbelievable.

COMPLICATIONS WITH BERLIN

Berlin, Nov. 24—A period of complications may again be impending in German-American relations.

Germany's conduct of submarine warfare has brought forth an abundant crop of American inquiries, of which Joseph C. Grew, the American charge, recently has filed no less than ten, five of them yesterday.

Six remained to be answered, including the cases of the Marina, on which a number of Americans appeared to be killed, and the liner Arabia, sinking of which the American government declares to be inconsistent with the promises of the German government regarding the treatment of passenger liners.

The United States bases its attitude in the case of the Arabia on the assumption that it was unarmed and torpedoed without warning, and is unable to see that there was justification for forcing the passengers into the boats. Washington believes the submarine commander, on ascertaining that there were women and children on the decks, should have refrained from making an attack.

Germany in the four cases, in regard to which replies already have been made, was found to have fairly convincing answers, which it is believed may put quite a different aspect on affairs. It is pointed out here, for example, that, according to testimony of her own passengers, the Arabia was armed and used her cannon; that the sea was smooth and that other vessels were near. It is argued that the Arabia, having on board a large number of coolie war workers, should be regarded as a transport.

$80,000 Fire in Tampa

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 27—A water front fire here yesterday burned a block of warehouses fronting the Hillsborough River, and, carried by a heavy wind, crossed the river and destroyed thirty houses in the residence section. Two persons, including a fireman, were injured. The total damage is estimated at $80,000.

CHANGED CONDITIONS

The Portsmouth Star, tells of the changed condition brought about by prohibition.

If present conditions continues, says our cotemporary, as they are now and have been since the State went dry on the first of the month, the jails of Portsmouth, Norfolk and Norfolk County will be well emptied within a very short while, according to the belief of members of the police departments of the cities and constabulary of the county.

There has been a drop in the usual number of prisoners committed to the jails of at least ninety per cent since the new prohibition law became operative. Discussing the situation a few days ago Deputy Sheriff Smith, of Norfolk county, who is jailer for the county, explained that since the first of the month only eight prisoners have been committed to the county's bastile, and City Sergeant Hudgins, of Norfolk, declares that there is such a drop off in the number of prisoners committed to jail in Norfolk he is not making anywhere near the amount he is allowed to make by law under the fee system.

"While the change in conditions may mean a serious loss to those paid by fees for their service, yet it means much to the community at large, and particularly to the State," says one well acquainted with the situation. "I believe that the loss to the State by the discontinuance of the liquor business, in the way of licenses to operate saloons, will be counterbalanced by the falling off in the funds appropriated by the State necessary to take care of prisoners in the jails and the penitentiary."

Attention has on several occasions been called to similar conditions in Alexandria since the prohibition law became operative. Richmond also reports a marked improvement during the present month. Reports from other sections of the state show beneficial changes in the past two or three weeks.

NON RESIDENTS WARNED

Four residents of Washington were arrested Saturday night and yesterday for being drunk in Alexandria. Four bottles containing whisky were found in their possession. It may be stated in this connection that most all persons who have been arrested here for drunkenness since the prohibition law became operative are strangers. Some have claimed Washington as their home, while others have alleged they reside in Virginia cities and towns.

For the benefit of such it may again be stated that any person who may drink intoxicants in any place in the state except in their own homes, if convicted, will certainly be held for the grand jury.

Persons who may be found upon the streets in a drunken condition with half-filled bottles of liquor in their pockets, no matter if they did procure their supply in Washington, makes it apparent that they drank the liquor in this city, as they would not have been allowed on the trains if they were drunk while in Washton.

The half- filled bottles are prima facie evidence that they have violated the prohibition laws by drinking in this state. Should such offenders be held for the grand jury, and they surely will, if convicted it might not be easy to find bondmen, that is people owning property in the Old Dominion, who would make themselves responsible for their appearance in court.

The above should be of interest to the increasing number of residents of other cities who buy liquor elsewhere and come here to drink it.

Fire of undetermined origin, yesterday morning wiped out the family of seven, of Lewis Wilson, in West Cape May, N. J.

OPPOSE NEGRO LABORERS

Trade unionism, which has been growling informally at the prospect of the introduction of colored labor in Great Britain since the proposition was first mooted, has now made a formal protest. The National Transport Workers' Federation, one of the largest unions, has passed a long resolution condemning certain proposals of the government affecting labor. The resolution says in part:

"The federation's executive hopes that the authorities will not be so ill-advised as to attempt the introduction of any class of colored labor on the docks or other waterside places of employment. In the existing crisis to think of employing colored labor would mean the recrudescence of all the trouble and discontent experienced by the increased employment of Chinese in the mercantile marine.

The above will be read with smiles by some septuagenarians and octogenarians still living when they recall the activity displayed in England many years ago in the cause of abolition. More copies of Harriet Beecher Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" were circulated in England than in America. At that time our English ancestors were rabid with their offspring for continuing negro slavery after setting forth in the Declaration of Independence that all men are born free and equal. English publishers printed many apocryphal stories concerning negro slavery in America, and exploited the careers of some freaks of nature from Africa of the genuris of Fred Douglass and others.

An Alexandrian who spent ten days in London several years ago met but five negroes in the British metropolis, and they, apparently, were visitors belonging to parties who had come from other climes. No Africans or descendants of Africans were found in hotels or other public places.

With all their overflowing sympathy for the negroes in by-gone years, the people of England seem to have but little use for the race. The same observations are often made by southern people who visit the northern section of the United States, where but few negroes are seen, while they are always in demand as laborers in the south.

WOMEN AND HIGH PRICES

Woman has been blamed from the days of the Garden of Eden for all the trouble in the world. She is now to be brought to the bar to answer the charge of bringing about the present high cost of living.

The "lazy housewife" is one of those responsible for the high cost of living, according to Marcus M. Marks, a New York official. Mr. Marks called her to account in addressing the weekly Sunday Forum of the Park Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church in New York yesterday, when the living cost question came up for discussion. According to the speaker, the overhead expenses of the tradesmen, which have to be paid ultimately by the consumer, were boosted by the lazy housewife, who asks the grocer to send around a five-cent purchase, or some other dealer to send a packet of pins, he said. He asserted that such an errand costs the grocer or dealer nearly 10 cents, and that hundreds of such requests come every day and mean an unquestioned addition to the expenses for everybody.

THE APPLE AS A FOOD.

The apple is without question the king of fruits. Whether used fresh, dried, evaporated, canned or cooked, it is a wholesome food, easily prepared, attractive and palatable at all times. Because of its rare keeping qualities it may be shipped to the uttermost parts of the earth, so that all may take advantage of its great food value. Apples vary in flavor and texture. The soft, sweet apples are not suitable for preserving. The tart, sound apples are best for this purpose. Fine grained apples are best for sauce and apple butter, while the coarse grained fruit is better for marmalade. In the fall and early winter apples are at their maximum in quality. Less spice is needed in cooking them at this time, because their flavor can hardly be improved, but toward spring some of their tang may have been lost, and the addition of spices or other flavoring may be an improvement. Always cook apples in earthen vessels or enameled or porcelain lined kettles and use silver or wooden spoons for stirring. The apple is used as a basis for practically all manufactured jams and jellies, due to the large amount of pectose which it contains. There is no waste to good apples. Even the core and parings may be used for making jelly.

In the face of an opportunity to go to the First Methodist Church, Shreveport, La., which has 1,200 members and pays a salary of $4,000 a year, in addition to a parsonage, Rev. William E. Thompson, D. D., will accept the appointment to Park Place Church, Richmond, and will take up his residence there on Wednesday. He succeeds Rev. J. J. Bradford, who has just completed a pastorate of four years at Park Place

George S. Crockett, a prosperous farmer of Accomac; his daughter, Mrs. Johnson, and her two children driving in an automobile, were struck Saturday at a crossing near Onley, by a northbound express train. Mrs. Johnson and one child were killed and the other child seriously injured. Mr. Crockett suffered fractures at the base of his skull and of one leg. Slight hopes are held out for his recovery.

The recent freeze in Rockingham was the coldest November weather experienced in that county for many years. In the Cherry Grove neighborhood more than 100 bushels of winter apples were frozen on the tress and entirely ruined. Fortunately, however, nearly all of Rockingham's great apple crop had been gathered and marketed before the cold wave came up the Valley.

The most destructive fire in the history of Shenandoah, a railroad town in the southern part of Page county, occurred Saturday. Property belonging to the Norfolk and Western Railroad amounting to thousands of dollars was destroyed. This included the company's machine shops and roundhouse. Large numbers of men will be thrown out of employment. When discovered the fire had made great headway and the fire company was hampered by the absence of fire plugs in that part of the town.

Lewis Harvie Blair, soldier, writer, philosopher and constructionist died at his home in Richmond yesterday morning in the eighty-third year of his age. Mr. Blair was a descendant of Rev. John D. Blair, better known in his time as "Parson Blair," and Mary Winston, adescendant of Isaac Winston, the colonist, who came from Yorkshire, England, in 1704, and settled near Richmond.

N. R. Herndon was found dead in bed with a bullet hole in his head and a revolver lying beside him on Saturday morning at the home of his cousin, A. C. Herndon, at Bellview. Mr. Herndon, who had been on a short business trip to Washington, reached his cousin's home on Friday afternoon. He retired to his room about 7:30 o'clock, giving no intimation that he contemplated self-destruction.

A man, probably 70 years old, believed from a letter found in his pocket to be Walter Golibart, of Norfolk, was early yesterday morning found dead in a room at 722 8th street, N. W., Washington, which he had rented Saturday night for one night.

It is reliably reported in British circles in Norfolk that the German merchant submarine Deutschland, now on hr way to Bremen, was picked up 300 miles off the coast of New England by a fightng submarine. Although at least five allied warships, had been searching for this U-boat for at least five days before the Deutschland left New London, their efforts have failed. It is supposed that for fear of making known her whereabouts, the fighting craft has made no attempt to sink any allied ships on this coast.

Isaac Newton Kite, aged 40, committed suicide near his home in Marksville, district, Page county, late Saturday by shooting himself in the head.Kite was a man of family and no cause can be assigned for the tragedy. His domestic relations are said to have been pleasant.

George Corvin, who lived near Wytheville, was killed near Ivanhoe Saturday. He was employed on the bridge construction force of the Norfolk and Western Railway. A piece of timber fell from the bridge, striking him in the head, killing him instantly.

FLIGHT OF ARETHUSA.

Mythological Origin of a Favorite British Warship Name.

From the days of Drake "Arethusa" has always been the favorite name of a swift, light cruiser in the British navy. A corvet named Arethusa took part in the battle of Cape St. Vincent on Feb. 14, 1797, when Nelson, then under Jervis, defeated the Spanish fleet, and this Arethusa was henceforth with the great admiral down to his last battle at Trafalgar eight years later.

As Arethusas have succeeded one another in the British navy, legends have gathered around the name until the ship so named has seemed to symbolize the mythological origin of the term.

There is in Peloponnesus a river called Morea. In ancient times, it is said, it was presided over by a river god named Alpheus. Alpheus fell in love with the river nymph, Arethusa, and pursued her through the water. Diana, hearing her cries of distress, opened a passage for the stream so that it flowed under the sea to Sicily, where, near Syracuse, Arethusa disappeared in the spray of a beautiful fountain.

The river, untainted by the sea, still flows underground to the fountain, and Alpheus is still said to be searching for the nymph, but never finds her. This is why her naval namesakes have eluded the enemy through all the centuries and have been believed by the superstitious to be invulnerable.—New York Times.

Odor of Sanctity.

The sexton of a suburban church has many stories to tell of the comments made by visitors.

On the occasion of a festival, when the church was beautifully decorated with evergreens and flowers an old lady walked up the aisle to the chancel and stood sniffing the air after every one had left the church.

"Don't it smell solemn?" she said at last to the sexton, as she turned away with evident reluctance.

"I don't know as I ever realized just what the 'odor of sanctity' meant before today."—Chicago Herald.

Cigars a Century Ago.

The war of 1814 brought the cigar to Paris with the English. Shortly after Waterloo, says the Springfield Republican, Roger de Beauvoir declared: "The cigar is the last word of dandyism, the final detail by which the finished gentlemen of our time may be identified. It is at the same time the supreme elegance and the supreme insolence of our generation. One cannot too highly recommend to would be lions to use it and even to abuse it."

Domestic Dilemma.

"Charley, dear," said young Mrs. Torkins, "would you enlist if your country called you?"

"I don't know what to say. If I answer 'No,' you'll say I don't love my country, and if I answer 'Yes' you'll say I don't like to stay at home."—Washington Star.

Doing His Best.

Small Boy (at depot)—Want your suit case carried, mister? Traveler—Why, my boy, you are too little to carry a heavy suit case. Small Boy—I know it, sir, but I thought perhaps you would give me a nickel for offering to carry it.—Chicago News.

NEWS OF THE DAY

N. Russell Herndon, 50 years old, for a number of years connected with the police department of the District of Columbia as a private precinct detective and later assigned to the central office as a detective, was found dead in bed Saturday morning he having been asphyxiated.

Early yesterday morning when Mrs. Annie Broderick reached her home at 1021 Euclid street northwest Washington from the home of a sister, where she had spent the night attending a sick relative, on going to the room of her husband, Thomas J. Broderick, 45 years old, she found the room filled with gas and her husband unconscious. He was hurried to the Freedmen's Hospital, where a physician pronounced him dead. Mr. Broderick conducted an auto livery service.

Four persons were killed yesterday at Kokomo, Ind., three instantly, when a buggy in which they were riding was struck by a passenger train at a street crossing. The four later were crowded in a single buggy, which was directly on the track when the train reached the crossing. All the bodies were thrown 200 feet.

Two persons were killed and four seriously injured in a collision between two Texas and Pacific trains near Strawn, Tex., late yesterday. W. W. Givens, engineer, and E. E. McGraw, fireman, of a local passenger train which crashed into the rear car of the eastbound "sunshine special", were killed. The latter train had stopped at a water tank when the collision occurred.

President Wilson's re-election will have cost the Democratic National Committee approximately $2,000,000 when all bills are liquidated. The final statement of Treasurer Wilbur W. Marsh, shows the total amount contributed to the campaign fund was $1,594,548.05. Total disbursements through New York headquarters aggregated $1,493,312.84. A deficit of $300,000 is being collected by assessment upon the States, cities and towns and from individual contributors.

From the masthead of the British cruiser Lancaster, stationed fifteen miles southeast of Sandy Hook, last night came the wireless warning that German submarines were lying off the American coast. The radio directed that the commanders of all vessels flying the flag of the entente allies keep a sharp watch for U-boats and to show no more lights than necessary. Furthermore, they were warned to avoid the regular trans-Atlantic lanes as much as possible.

Billy Sunday emphatically denied yesterday in Boston, that he intended to retire next year from revival work. "Not on your life," shouted the evangelist in making reply to the query. "'I shall preach as long as the Lord lets me keep my voice and my legs are strong enough to prop me up. I pray the Lord will let me keep on fighting the devil until the very hour when he says: 'That's enough, Billy, come up.'"

Get 'em pulled electrically. Walter Layton, 39 years old, of Camden, N. C., did Thursday night, and he didn't have to pay a dentist to do the job either. Layton was walking in the rainstorm at Ninth and Spruce streets, Camden, his attention diverted by trying to balance an umbrella against the gale. There was a sagging electric wire ahead of him, but Layton didn't see it. The wire was full of "kick", which Layton realized when it grazed against his mouth and sent two hundred or more volts of electricity coursing about his jaws. Four teeth popped out of their sockets like the "jack out of a box," Layton hiked home, thankful it was only his teeth he had lost.

Louis P. Shoemaker, prominent Washington real estate dealer, died yesterday afternoon in the Emergency Hospital from an attack of acute indigestion. He was one of the pioneer citizens of Washington, having been born in 1856 in the old Shoemaker homestead at Pierce's Mill in Rock Creek Park. His father, Pierce Shoemaker, was owner of most of the land which now comprises the park.

Mrs. Russell O'Hara, wife of a New York school teacher, and her twin daughters were burned to death early yesterday when fire destroyed their cottage near Chenango bridge, Binghamton, N. Y. The bodies were found yesterday morning, those of the little girls huddled close to the mother.

$250,000 LUMBER FIRE

Alexandria, La., Nov. 27—Five million feet of hard wood lumber, valued at $250,000, was destroyed by fire which originated early yesterday morning in a barn near the Ford Brenner sawmill yards. The fire had burned for eighteen hours before it was extinguished last night. Five box cars on the Texas and Pacific tracks near the yards, loaded with cotton and miscellaneous shipments valued at several thousand dollars, also were destroyed.

TORIC LENSES

Why not have the best glasses for your eyes?

The Toric Lens is indorsed as the best for the eye by the most eminent specialists on the eye.

THE REASON

Because they conform to the shape of the eyeball.

They give a much greater field of vision than the ordinary flat lens.

They can be fitted closer to the eye without touching the eyelashes, and you cannot see the edge of the glasses nor are you bothered by annoying reflections.

Millions wear Torics in perference to the old style flat lens. There's a reason.

If you complain of eyestrain, headache, nervousness, weak or blurred sight, call and let me correct the trouble. You evidently are needing glasses or the ones you have are unsuitable to your eyes.

Consultation free, charges reasonable, satisfaction assured.
